5) The following are some of the defects noticed in the proposed byelaws -

General

1 Some definitions for some of the words mentioned in the byelaws are necessary

2 It would be better to have marginal notes mentioning the subject referred to in the para

3 There are a number of repetitions in the byelaws which will have to be deleted

4 There is no proper sequence in the byelaws.

5 The byelaws are not also exhaustive

Special

Byelaw 8 - In this byelaw, the attachment

6) fee is fixed as Re 1/- irrespective of the size of connection Since the giving of fresh connections means depreciation of the submain, the fee imposed is not sufficient It would be better to increase the attachment fee as noted below -

attachment	Rs 15/-
-do-	Rs 15/-
-do- involving road cutting	Rs 20/-
-do-	Rs 20/-

7) Byelaw 10 - This byelaw restricts the sanction of house connections to houses paying house or shop tax of Rs 2/- per year This will mean that the number of house connections will be very great and the corresponding number of meters will also have to be necessarily increased It is therefore advisible to restrict the house connections to those, whose building tax or shop tax is not less than

Ref 111—62

than Rs 5/- a year, subject however of course, to the capacity and the pressure of the distribution submain nearest to the premises permitting the grant of such connection The byelaw further restricts the number of ½ connections to 2 and levies a fee of Rs 1-8-0 per month payable in advance at the end of every month Since the system of metering is proposed to be introduced there does not seem to be any necessity for this restriction and collection of advance payment is also unnecessary

8) Byelaw 11 - This byelaw is unnecessary as the proposal is to install meters

9) Byelaw 12 - This byelaw levies a meter rent of Rs 0-4-0 per month on every meter It would be better to have the rates varying according to the sizes of the meters, as follows, as in the case of Davangere Municipality

	Per month
½", ¾" & 1 meters can be charged at	Rs 0- 4- 0
1¼	0- 8- 0
1½"	1- 0- 0
2	1-12- 0
2½	2- 5- 0
3	2- 8- 0

10) Byelaw 14 - This byelaw states that free allowance of water to the consumer or owner for his domestic connections shall be 2,000 gallons per month as follows for every one rupee of house or shop tax levied on the house a free allowance shall be 2,000 gallons per month This byelaw is very defective For example, a house paying a house or shop tax of Rs 30/- per year, the free allowance ~~of~~ will be 60,000 gallons per month which is abnormal The byelaw may therefore to be altered as follows

Ml III - a

11) for every one rupee of house or shop tax levied on the house or shop the authorised free allowance shall be 5,000 gallons per annum and in no case, shall such free allowance be less than 2,000 gallons or more than 10,000 gallons per month

12) Bylaw 26 - This bylaw is not properly worded It may be re-written as follows -

Any person disputing the accuracy of the meter may apply to the President or the Authorised officer, who shall, on payment of a ~~fee~~ fee of rupee one per test direct the testing of the meter If, on actual test, the quantity registered by the meter is in excess of the correct quantity by more than five percent, the testing fee shall be refunded, and a proportionate rebate shall be allowed for the month in question and the modified bill paid for as per rules No rebate shall be allowed if the excess is five percent and below, and the testing fee shall not also be refunded

13) Byelaw 28 - This byelaw states that in the case of meters that go out of order the average consumption daily, for the last 3 months during which in the opinion of the President the meter was recording properly and the consumption of water for any reason was not abnormal has to be taken into consideration It would be better to take the average for the last 6 months monthly consumption instead of 3 months daily consumption as the former period would cover all the seasonal variations also

14) Byelaw 30 This byelaw imposes a penalty of 50/- on persons infringing any of the water supply byelaws It may be deleted as the provision comes up separately under municipal byelaws itself

Water Supply Bye-laws of Hassan Town Mpl'ty

MI 11-42

15 A copy of model byelaws prepared for regulating the water supply to Davangere town is enclosed and it would be better for the Hassan Town Municipality also to form their byelaws on the same lines as there will be some uniformity in all the municipalities of the State
